WHO WE ARE

Eringold Calf Milk Replacers is a family-run business proudly celebrating 30 years of trusted service to farmers across the island of Ireland.

Founded in 1995 by Robert and Marion Mollan in County Armagh, Eringold began with just two pallets of milk replacer and a simple mission — to give every calf the best possible start in life.

Working closely with Europe's leading calf nutritionists and manufacturers, Robert and his son Chris have developed a range of high-quality milk replacers designed to promote calf health, performance and consistency.

Over the past three decades, Eringold has built its reputation on three core values — quality, consistency and customer care.

As a small family business, we take pride in providing farmers with reliable products and personal support that make a real difference on farm.

OUR STORY - 30 YEARS OF GROWTH AND INNOVATION

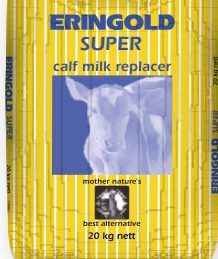

It all started in 1995 when Robert and Marion began distributing calf milk replacer from their small farm store in Keady, County Armagh. Word spread quickly as local farmers saw remarkable results in calf performance, and soon Eringold was supplying merchants across Northern Ireland and beyond. From county shows and farm visits to partnerships with leading nutrition companies, the business grew steadily — always guided by a passion for calf rearing and farmer success.

Today, under the leadership of the second generation, Chris Mollan continues that same commitment to quality and service, expanding Eringold's reach and strengthening relationships built over three decades of trust.

"Our success has always been built on trust — trust in the product, trust in the farmer, and trust in the relationships we've built along the way."

— Robert Mollan
